15 CONCORD STUDENTS EARN AP® SCHOLAR AWARDS!

SECOND HIGHEST NUMBER EVER EARN HONORS

Fifteen students at Concord High School (usual enrollment: 100 students) have earned the designation of AP Scholar by the College Board in recognition of their exceptional achievement on the college-level Advanced Placement Program® (AP®) Exams.

The College Board's Advanced Placement Program offers students the opportunity to take challenging college-level courses while still in high school, and to receive college credit, advanced placement, or both for successful performance on the AP Exams. Only about 18 percent of the more than 1.6 million high school students in almost 16,000 secondary schools worldwide who took AP Exams performed at a sufficiently high level to merit the recognition of AP Scholar.

Students took AP Exams in May 2009 after completing challenging college-level courses at their high schools. The College Board recognizes several levels of achievement based on student's performance on AP exams.

AP SCHOLARS WITH DISTINCTION

At Concord High School six students qualified for the AP Scholar with Distinction Award by earning an average grade of at least 3.5 on all AP Exams taken, and grades of 3 or higher on five or more of these exams. These students are Joseph Patrick Bowman, Charles H. Brittenham III, Ramia Adaeze Davis, Jackson Packer Hille, Ryan Gannon King and Jeffrey W. Samuelson.

AP SCHOLARS WITH HONOR

Four students qualified for the AP Scholar with Honor Award by earning an average grade of at least 3.25 on all AP Exams taken, and grades of 3 or higher on four or more of these exams. These students are Claire Edwards Campbell, Hana Michaelle Pape, David Richard Pieton and Andrew Wood.

AP SCHOLARS

Five students qualified for the AP Scholar Award by completing three or more AP Exams with grades of 3 or higher. The AP Scholars are Max David, Sabrina Deanne Leong, Dylan Scot Modell, Madison Grace Neufeld and Mason Mikhail Totaro.

REPEAT HONORS

Of this year's award recipients at Concord High School, eight are currently seniors: Joseph Patrick Bowman, Claire Edwards Campbell, Ramia Adaeze Davis, Jackson Packer Hille, Ryan Gannon King, Sabrina Deanne Leong, Dylan Scot Modell and Madison Grace Neufeld. These students have at least one more year to complete college-level work and earn another AP Scholar Award before graduating from Concord.

Most of the nation's colleges and universities award credit, advanced placement, or both, based on successful performance on the AP Exams. More than 1,400 institutions award a full year's credit (sophomore standing) to students presenting a sufficient number of qualifying grades. In 2009, thirty-seven AP Exams were offered in a wide variety of subject areas, each consisting of multiple-choice and free-response (essay or problem-solving) questions (except for the Studio Art exam which evaluates students' original artwork).

The College Board is a not-for-profit membership organization whose mission is to connect students to college success and opportunity. Founded in 1900, the association is composed of more than 5,400 schools, colleges, universities, and other educational organizations. Each year, the College Board serves seven million students and their parents, 23,000 high schools, and 3,500 colleges through major programs and services in college admissions, guidance, assessment, financial aid, enrollment, and teaching and learning. Among its best-known programs are the SAT®, the PSAT/NMSQT®, and the Advanced Placement Program® (AP®). The College Board is committed to the principles of excellence and equity, and that commitment is embodied in all of its programs, services, activities, and concerns.
